Questions on RiverCOG RFP for Creation of the Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy

Question 01/05/22: Will not having experience writing a CEDS or establishing an Economic Development District disqualify a respondent?

Answer: No. Respondents will not be disqualified solely based on not having experience writing a CEDS or establishing an Economic Development District. However, it would be expected that they explain in their response how they are qualified and able to complete a CEDS for the Lower Connecticut River Valley Region. The respondent should include relevant experience with economic development plans and districts, and any explanation of why they have not had experience writing a CEDS.
